Projects:

IMDb clone

I have developed a web application utilizing HTML, Tailwind CSS, and JavaScript, leveraging the Next.js framework. This project is a replication of the renowned movie database and rating platform, IMDb. Additionally, I have implemented a sophisticated user interface incorporating light and dark mode functionalities through React components.

Mina's Diary

Developed a React.js and Tailwind CSS-based website for a fictional book. Implemented user-focused features like book reviews, purchase links, and a newsletter subscription form to boost user engagement and interaction.

School Exeat System

A school individual project in which I was able to utilize C#.NET to develop a school's exit form and save all of the details into a database using XAMPP/Apache SQL localhost.
